Hi James,

Thank you very much for the support. I will attribute that way then, and if it is not too much trouble I would be very happy to see the rest of your photos.

Best,
Lorena

Hi Lorena,

You are welcome to use the photo. Please attribute it to James Thompson – Environment Canterbury.

I do have a stack of other photos from the flight. If I get a chance I will drop them into DropBox for you to look at.

James.

Subject: Copyright and usage of Hapuku landslide dam photograph

Dear James Thompson,

My name is Lorena Abad, a researcher of the University of Salzburg. I am currently drafting a manuscript on a study about the detection of landslide-dammed lakes in the Kaikoura region after the November 2016 earthquake using remote sensing. I am analyzing a large area in the Canterbury and Marlborough regions, however for validation purposes I am zooming into some specific areas, including the Hapuku area. Sadly, neither my colleagues nor I have been to this area but would really like to include a field photograph. I found this image (<https://nzplaces.nz/media/14800/lake-hapuku-seaward-kaikouras-2018-environment-canterbury-12.jpg>) taken by you and would like to include it on my manuscript. I noticed the picture metadata includes your name in the copyright, however I could not find under which CC licensed it is distributed. For this reason I wanted to reach out to you and ask you for permission to use your photograph. In case you accept, I would of course acknowledge you as the author of the picture, with the respective copyright license, if you wish so. Also, should I mention Environment Canterbury in the attribution?

Thank you very much in advance for your reply.

Best regards,

Lorena
